Nuts and Bolts of TSCM for Security Managers

The purpose of the workshop is to acquaint security managers and others responsible for information protection in their organisations with all aspects of the management of technical surveillance countermeasures (TSCM) services and procedures.

The workshop will provide information on the nature of the electronic eavesdropping threat and ways that it can be countered. Attendees will receive information that they can apply to their own situations. Topics covered are:

Training Dates:

Coming Soon

- What is TSCM
- History of TSCM
- Attack methods
- Technical surveillance devices
- TSCM equipment resources
- Technical security hazards
- Concepts of TSCM
- TSCM survey procedures
- Planning and reporting
- Technical investigations and covering the procedural concepts for integrating technical security with existing facility security.

The cost to attend this unique workshop is R 5 700.00 (including VAT) and includes the workshop material, refreshments, meals, workshop handbook and certificate. Seating is limited and early booking is recommended!

Click here to register or here to download a brochure and registration form.